

330BC

1912 Dates J-BK

389-314BC

AE SCHINES

A Greek orator, rival of Demosthenes overthrown by the latter's famous speech "On the Crown"
he went into exile (330 BC)
His chief orations are: Against Timarchus, On the False Embassy and Against CTESIPHON

330 BC (?)

Aristotle (Greece) proposes that the Sun is a sphere of pure fire, unchanging and without imperfections.

C330BC
429-347BC

1912Dates J-BK

Plato

330 BC

Cal

The Seleucids and afterward the Parthian rulers of Iran maintained the Babylonian Cal. From 1st cen BC, northern IRAN used Zoroastrian months and day names in documents in Pahlavi (Iranian language of Sassanian Persia). The origin of the Zoroastrian Calendar of 12 mo of 30 d, plus 5 days, 365 days remain unknown

33013e

Sacred library in the Temple
at Jerusalem.

Jan 330 BC

Alexander reached Pampala. He turned the city over to his troops.

With unrestrained violence they looted its rich art and killed adult males. Later Alexander looted the Palaces.

With Treasury of about 100,000 talents of gold (worth billions of $ today) Alexander was lord of Asia

330 B²

Alexander III pursued Darius III to EC BATANA (Southwest of modern Tehran)

Darius had fled.
By forced marches, he pursued.

He heard that Bessus, ruler of Bactria had arrested Darius & claimed the throne.
Alexander caught up to abandoned

Persian baggage train. One of Alexander's men noticed a wagon that had veered off the trail, pulled by two wounded Oxen.
Curious, he looked and a friend Darius shocked and mortally wounded. They gave him some water & he died. Alexander came up - full of grief - unfastened his own cloak & threw it over Darius. Darius' body was returned to Persopolis for burial while Alexander led his army to the nearby city of IECATOMPYLIS for much needed rest. Rumor spread that they were going home. Alexander wept.
He chose men of noble birth of Persian captives to be trained as administrators

330 BC

A belander, pursued Bessians who had retreated from rugged hill country of Boetria into neighboring SOG DIANA

North across the OKUS R.
into blistering plains of SOG DIANA His increasingly unhappy men succumbed to frostbite, altitude sickness, and heat.

C 330 Be

384- 322 Be

1912 Dates J-BK

Aristotle

C330BC
395-323BC

1912Dates J-BK

Speech "Against LEOCRATES"
one of 15 delivered by LYCURGUS
about 395-323BC
one of the Ten Attic Orators